

The Center for Educational Effectiveness

John Steach, Ed.D.
CEO

john@effectiveness.org • (425) 947-5242

Twitter: Dr. J@jstech

Experience

Educational career spans over 23 years in leadership as a Board Member, Board Chair, Superintendent, HR Director, Principal Supervisor as well as leading district communications and support services.

- Leading district technology transformation:
 - Moving the district from antiquated technology to 1:1 student Chromebooks and teacher mobile devices with digital curriculum in 4 years
 - Developing a district Personalized Learning Instructional Framework
 - Defining and implementing digital content adoption and renewal cycle
 - Implementing a Coherent/Policy Governance system with student results measurements for both academic and social & emotional growth.
 - Implementing district Social & Emotional Learning focus consisting of district-wide expectations.
 - Passing construction bonds and levies.
 - Developing and gathering support for successful legislation included in HB 1599 to de-link graduation from testing to career readiness proficiency.
-
- Developing alternative educational programs to meet student needs.
 - Leading negotiations and labor relations.
 - Developing and implementing a criteria-based hiring process for administrators and a collaborative teacher hiring process.
 - Developing long-range facility plans.

NEED MORE INFORMATION?

425.283.0384
info@effectiveness.org
www.effectiveness.org

Education:

BS in Chemical Engineering, MBA, Ed.D. Educational Leadership from Washington State University - Go Cougs!